Randy,
Don't forget
all the good old times in Am. History Class. Be good next year. And stay out of trouble.

Nancy <sup>Acker</sup>

Randy,
I'm a guy who can't stay in one place a long time. I'll be a good old friend of me
minding my own business.
I hope to see you soon.
I hope you have a sweet luck in the future with Best of Chag Stuczynski

JUNIOR CLASS

The juniors carried their one big project all through the year, that is, financing and planning the Junior-Senior Prom. They accomplished this by operating the concession stand during the lunch periods and basketball games. Through their hard work the Prom was a success, providing fun and wonderful memories for everyone.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

I've made plans to move to Hexachlorophine, which lies between the Colgate Space Way and the Gleem Terminal.

First I had to make arrangements with the space commission. I received a phone call to pick up my passport from Marilyn Oster, secretary to the Space President, Craig Halliwill. When all my papers had been taken care of, I went to the medical lab for my shots. While there, I stopped to talk with Dr. Rod Yeager and his nurse, Merrily Tubbs. Merrily told me that Carol Dayson was now head nurse at Milky Way General Hospital.

Friday night I had some extra time, so I went to a basketball game between the Martian Monsters and the Space Trotters. I noticed the Monsters' new manager was Bill Abrams.

Early Saturday morning I went to the space port where they were just getting the "G. L. 70" ready. Rod Hartman, one of the engineers, was discussing plans for a new ship with its designer, Ron Emerson.

Rick Shurell's voice came over the loud speaker and announced our take-off plans. Boarding the plane, I discovered my pilots were Frank Dunbar and Jamie Culler. Our flight took off on schedule and as soon as we were air borne, Kaye Burnett, our hostess, explained the safety equipment. During the flight we saw a new movie starring the famous actor, Pat Loss. Some of the other passengers were Ray Moore, who was on a business trip for Interplanetary Motors; Ruth Rickey, the first woman astronaut; and Tom Williams, one of the best known race drivers on Hexachlorophine.

We stopped at a satellite to re-fuel and pick up some more passengers. I had a few hours, so I decided to take one of the many guided tours. A group of government workers was on the trip with us. They were: Becky Ruppert, John Church, and Kay Fulton. Mike Thomas, our guide, showed us the new Crater Night Club, owned by Lonnie Miller. This week the star performer was Sally Montgomery. He also showed us the lab where Bill Sternecker and Jack Wideman had discovered a rare breed of animal called a "platygiraphant."

After the tour I stopped to do some shopping and bought two books, a cook book by Pat Shank and a novel by Kathy Searles, both of which were sold to me by Penny Tench. I bought a new dress in one of Sally Stayton's exclusive shops. It was designed by Ellen Washburn and modeled by Betty Gregory. Bonnie Clement was the manager of the store.

The rest of the flight was quiet with one exception. A hot rod rocket driver, Skip Jones, nearly ran into our ship. Luckily, Chief Kelly Baxter was cruising around and gave him a ticket.

As our ship neared Hexachlorophine, another was preparing to leave for the planet, Frica. Frica had been discovered by Dan Hopp, and now a group of explorers, organized by Mary Lou Frantz, was going to further explore the planet. Other members of the expedition were Chuck Eddy, photographer; Doss Harvey, head of topography; and Bill Riebau, mechanic. They were taking some new ape cages, designed by Terry Melle and Ron Delac, to the Interplanetary Exposition on Frica.

Inside the terminal our papers were checked by the security guard, Jim Beresford. I turned to watch one of the rockets take off and saw Leo Thompson trying to jump on the tail section, but he was unable to do so because it was already occupied by Norm Rolling.

At the customs department Maxine Header returned my luggage. I heard a disturbance outside; Barb Shanta, famous interplanetary spy, was being whisked away in a patrol car by Paul Kubis.

I stopped in a coffee shop where LaDonna Neufield, Betty Brooks and Sue Van Kannel were eating lunch before returning to work at the Saturn Spring Company. At one of the tables a group of teachers was talking. They were Phyllis Bagley, Eleanor Szaranski, and Barb Phillis.

I checked in at the Pluto Palms Hotel and was startled to see the film actress, Renee Siegfried, with her two producers, Steve Cisar and Jerry Eby.

I didn't want to stay in my room, so I took a bus tour of the city. While on the bus I saw Marty Hastings just leaving Jane Moxley's Gym for Women Wrestlers. I also caught a glimpse of Jerry Foster's Modeling Agency and a night club where the Strat-overs: Bud Herrle, Bob Nichols and Al Farris were appearing.

I stopped to eat lunch at an exclusive restaurant owned by the famous boxer, Bill Beck. Sitting at a table near me were two "big shots" from Specific Motors—John Campy and Al Thiele. A fashion show was presented with Jeanne Ream and Maggi Brown modeling. I heard that Marilyn Charters was soon to appear.

Back at the hotel I talked to Linda Curtice, the switch board operator, who told me that Phyllis Lane and Linda Plues had recently moved to this planet to open a dance studio. She told me that Ron Yost and Doug Walker had become very famous in a new sport, Jupiter Jump Rope.

The next morning I took a trip out of the city. There were many experimental farms. Some of them were owned by Terry Oberholtzer, Paul Kovalik and Darrell Ruder. Nancy Sprankle was running a large horse ranch, and down the skyway was a large chemical firm headed by Leroy Gunner. I decided to stop and talk to some of the people working there.

The receptionist, Donna Dixson, told me that there was a beauty operators' convention in town. She told me that Cathy Doyle, Sharon Hull, and Judy Burton were coming, and Diane Dreibelbis was to make a speech on the latest hairdo, "The Rings of Saturn." Sue Tiffner, one of the secretaries, showed me through the plant. Reg Campbell was head of the advertising department. Larry Ptak could be heard discussing some technical problem with the head of the department, George Laurenz. The company lawyer, Dick Larabee, was in his office talking to his secretary, Augusta Meincke. The accountant, Jim McClain, was going over some figures with the treasurer, Ron Reich.

On my return to the city, I passed a new school building dedicated to Pat Horvath, who had started a new trend and had made Hungarian an interplanetary language. Speaking of schools, I heard that George Smiley received an award for cross country coach of the year. I found that both Sandy Longacre and Nancy Morton were teaching at a grade school on the planet.

There are several large hospitals here, and while I didn't plan on entering one, I did find that several old friends were working at the Venus Hospital. Dr. Barthalomew was one of the chief residents and Les Peterson was head of psychiatry. Doris Buchanan, Donna Freese, and Linda Fodor were on the nursing staff and Pat Taylor was the chief dietician. Bill Dwyer had previously worked at the hospital but had gone into private practice, and Judy Akers was working as his receptionist.

I learned that Nanci Hinkel was employed as a social worker for Ted Hubbel's orphanage. I went out to dinner and saw Dan Allen talking with Roy Lehman about the prospects of their forthcoming marriages. At the table next to me were three businessmen: Tom Gallatin, Ted Van Boxel, and Ken Rudes from Interplanetary Business Machine Company. A group of secretaries from the same company was eating dinner also. They were: Kay Brown, Sue Kaszian, and Barb Horkey.

After dinner I went to a water show where I saw Kathie McCarthy swimming in a shark tank and Connie Zsambok water skiing. There had been a lot of preparation for the show. Janet Gransee worked on the scenes with the help of Carol Patrick, and Bob Bennett worked on the lighting.

I passed Paul Michaels' photo studio and Dan Well's auto shop on my way back to the hotel. At a newsstand, I picked up a magazine. I opened it and found that Sue Hornbeck was on the editorial staff, Cathy Schelkle was art editor, and Barb Thomas was home editor. One of the articles in the magazine was about the famous home of the very wealthy Sandy Wilson. There was also an article about the big business directed by Don Nye. In one of the pictures I noticed Kathy Jones and Barb Lewis busy at their desks.

In the hotel lobby I met Sandy Fulton, head of a large art concern. She told me that Mary Smith, Karen Shipman, and Wayne Winchip were working in her company. The first two were employed in the office and Wayne was working as a designer.

Ann Veirs stopped by the hotel to say hello. I was thrilled to hear that she was president of the Hexachlorophine branch of the Sun Economists Firm. When I went down to the desk in the morning, Jane Skidmore checked me out, and I made my way to my new home.

It's funny how small the universe is becoming! !

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the class of nineteen hundred sixty-two, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby prepare and publish at Medina Senior High School this, our last will and testament.

- I, Mike Thomas, will nothing, because I'm taking it all with me.
- I, Mary Smith, will my bookkeeping workbooks to anyone who can understand them.
- I, Steve Cisar, will to anyone who wants it, my ability to get good grades without taking any books home.
- I, Mary Lou Frantz, will my great ability to do chemistry experiments to anyone who wants to flunk lab.
- I, Linda Curtice, will to Linda Conn all the notes she wrote to boys this last year, and my typing ability to anyone who wants to type for Mr. Rios.
- I, Jack Wideman, will my old tuba case to anyone who is in need of a perfectly good, used case with moth-eaten interior.
- I, Skip Jones, will all my weight lifting equipment to Chuck Summers. He needs it!
- I, Bob Nichols, will the telephone pole on the corner to any student who has enough guts to hit it.
- I, Sandy Wilson, will my gym locker to Mike Washburn, in hopes that it will prove interesting.
- I, Larry Ptak, will my trusty yell at football and basketball games to anyone who has guts enough to use it.
- I, Jane Skidmore, will to Jeanne Silva my ability to get up at 7:00 A. M. and still catch the bus.
- I, Sue Hornbeck, will the quiet fifth period study hall to any senior not interested in studying.
- I, Ron Delac, will my co-ordination to Jim Petrigala. He needs it!
- I, George Laurenz, will one broken crankshaft, a bent drive-shaft and four bald tires, from the best 1951 Ford in town, to Frank Siebert.
- I, Bonnie Clement, will my ability to skip shorthand and gym class, without getting caught, to Judy Easton and Debbie Donaley.
- I, Roy Lehman, will my last name and my seat on the bench during basketball games to a junior, named Ken, and a sophomore, named Jack.
- I, Marilyn Charters, will my big mouth and the big foot that goes in it to any undeserving junior.
- I, Sandy Fulton, will my ability to keep quiet in study hall to Larry Buckley.
- I, Pat Horvath, will my band spats to Becky Friedt, so she may have each person in her line wear them to bring luck; also, I will the spaghetti dinner to the flute row.
- I, George Smiley, will my Roxy stubs to Jim Cantwell.
- I, Ann Veirs, will to some lucky junior all the fun of second year German class.

- I, Ron Emerson, will to Mark Druckenbrod my seat in the lobby.
- I, Sally Stayton, will to the junior class all my leftover fruit cakes.
- I, Kelly Baxter, will my ability to keep out of trouble to Ed Grey, he'll need it.
- I, Jane Moxley, will to "Little Mox" the wall to wall carpeting I gave to Al Williams for his locker.
- I, Wayne Winchip, will to my brother, Alan, my ability to get along with Mr. Teagarden in 5th period study hall.
- I, Rick Shurell, will my ability to get along with Mr. Rios and my seat in his psychology class to any energetic student who wants them.
- I, Jeanne Ream, will my ability to gain left-handed compliments from Mr. Rios, to any junior who is lucky enough to take psychology and sociology.
- I, Ted Van Boxel, will to my brother Mr. Eisenman's school parking place.
- I, Sandy Longacre, will to Kathy Scanlan my ability to help tie toilet paper bows on the doors of "our leader's" home.
- I, Bill Riebou, will nothing; I'm taking it all with me.
- I, Sharon Hull, will to any varsity cheerleader all the fun I have had in the past two years.
- I, Charles Eddy, will to anyone who wants it, the ability to do photography work well and to get along with Mr. Rios.
- I, Eleanor Szafranski, will my seat in civics class to Florence Neumeyer.
- I, Paul Michaels, will my ability to avoid being hypnotized in psychology to anyone not wanting their past revealed.
- I, Don Nye, will my service to Mrs. Hergenroeder for as long as she needs or wants them.
- I, Cathy Doyle, will my reputation as "Mrs. Webb" in driving class to anyone who wants to learn to drive.
- I, Rita Dreibelbis, will my ability to get through the A-wing during lunch without getting caught to my sister, Sandy.
- I, Craig Halliwill, will the O's and woes of the Audio Club to Al Williams.
- I, Phyllis Lane, will to any junior who wants them, all the notes I took in shorthand.
- I, Linda Fodor, will to Gail Gabelli my ability to get along with "Our Leader", and to Jo Smith go the hopes that someone will listen to her records.
- I, Linda Plues, will to Cece all my old boy friends and the happiness and headaches I've had with them.
- I, Betty Gregory, will to Miss Henderson the memories of her 1962 senior home economics class.
- I, Sue Tiffner, will all the fun I have had during my senior year to all the juniors.
- I, Dan Wells, will one flat tire, a bent rim, a plugged oil filter, and a pair of broken 1951 Ford tail lights with trim to anyone dumb enough to accept them.

VARSIY FOOTBALL

If winning football games was based on enthusiasm and determination, our Varsity Bees would always be in the winning column. In their eagerness and persevering attitude, they earned the reputation of being the "Battling Bees." Our boys always fought to the very end and never gave up. They brought the long sought VICTORY to Medina on Senior Night by conquering Oberlin. All of us know that we have much to be proud of in our "Battling Bees," and to all of them, from all of us, goes the best of luck in the future.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The basketball season of 1962 is a memorable one for all concerned. Compiling an impressive 15-3 mark, the varsity "Bees" established a new school record for the total number of wins in a season. Dan Allen broke the individual scoring record with a total of 38 points in the last game of the season. In the final statistics, our "Bees" not only brought to Medina a second place berth in the Southwestern Conference, but honor, which we hope will be an inspiration to future M.H.S. teams.

CONCERT BAND

Keeping the musical tradition of Medina High, the "Musical Bees" scored victories at every football game with their spirited half time shows. Marching off the football field and into the band room, the "Musical Bees" went "classical." The band presented both their annual winter and spring concerts in their top-notch style. While traveling to Conneaut for an exchange concert, the Bees gave a morning performance at Ashtabula Harbor High School. Then Defiance came to Medina for the final concert of the year. Hats off to "Stacy's Army."
